Spring Dates: 2/20 – 4/23/12 ❖ Monday 6:00-9:00 p.m.

Fall Dates: 9/17 – 11/19/12 ❖ Monday 6:00-9:00 p.m.

A) Course Description: The course covers the six key functional areas defined by the HR profession and coincides with the body-of-knowledge tested on the professions' HRCI certification exam. This course contains both live and online components and is designed to provide the student with a strong foundational understanding through online lectures and enhanced application learning through live lectures, group exercises, class discussions and practice tests. The HR Mgt course provides students with the tools and information necessary to pass the SPHR/PHR exam.

B) Course Objectives: Participants will be able to comprehend, retain and apply the human resource body of knowledge and/or to prepare for the Professional Human Resource/Senior Professional Human Resource (PHR/SPHR) certification exam.

C) Student Expectations: Participants are expected to attend each class session. If you are unable to make a session, you are expected to make arrangements with the instructor to make up the course content. Participants are also expected to complete and turn in all of the application exercises, complete all tests, and participate in class activities. Expected student outcomes are successful preparation for the HRCI examinations and achievement of professional development goals. Students will receive a certificate of completion for successful completion of the course.

D) Methods of Instruction:

Self-directed Learning Modules: Each of the HRCP Self-directed Learning Modules contains readings, progress checks, and application exercises which contain complete case studies and discussion questions. These are to be completed before the corresponding class session.

On-line foundational lectures: Foundational lectures are available for students to review at leisure to assure strong understanding of HR concepts.

In-class instruction: Each session may be structured to include four components: an instructor lecture/discussion of the content, application exercises, and module tests to be completed most weeks.

E) Required Text

HRCP (Human Resource Certification Preparation) Program

F) Transferring skills into the work setting: Scenario based exercises that encourage group discussion/problem-solving ; reading course and outside materials in preparation for the HRCI examinations.
